Ferry Sinking May Be Fatal To 200 Aboard

Saturday Tragedy In West Indies Being Probed

NEVIS, West Indies (AP) — A 75-foot motor launch designed to carry about 180 people on its ferry shuttles between the islands of Nevis and St. Kitts had aboard "probably 270 to 300" persons when it capsized and sank in five minutes Saturday, a government official said Sunday night.

Between 175 and 200 were feared dead. Forty-three bodies had been recovered by late Sunday, and there were 88 survivors. All were believed residents of the two islands except three Roman Catholic nuns—two from Canada and one from England—who were drowned.

The U.S. Coast Guard said some of the others might have been washed out to sea. But most were believed entombed with the boat's captain, James Ponteen, inside the steel hull in 130 feet of water about a mile off the southeast tip of St. Kitts.

Coast Guard divers were to inspect the hull later this week.

Harbormaster Edrade Walwyn estimated the number of passengers aboard the ferry Christina when she went down Saturday, but he said ticket records were aboard the boat.

Lee Moore, information officer for the local government acknowledged that the government ferry "had on slightly too many passengers" and added, "We understand the capsizing was caused by uneven distribution of passengers."

The Coast Guard quoted an unidentified government official that the ferry "started leaning, and the people flocked to one side, with the result that it capsized."

The boat apparently was in trouble soon after it left Basseterre, St. Kitts, on the 11-mile, one-hour trip to Charlestown, Nevis.

"It started leaning," said Diana Williams, 19, a bank clerk returning home to Nevis. "Everybody started jumping off. It went down suddenly. People were yelling; some with words, some just screaming. We started holding onto the boat. Then I went under, and everybody seemed to be hanging onto each other."

NFL Dispute Is Settled

NEW YORK (AP) — Owners of the National Football League reached agreement with the Players Association today, ending a players' strike which had threatened the 1970 season.

Veteran members of the 26 squads agreed to report to training camps immediately.

The owners had met in the office of Commissioner Pete Rozelle for close to 24 hours, not breaking for sleep.

The players demanded increased pension benefits.

It was the most serious labor dispute in the history of professional sports in the nation.

Millions of dollars in television contracts also were involved.

Antioch To Sponsor Education Program

The program, to be held in Dayton and attended by 25 college special education program administrators from throughout the country, is underwritten by a $14,000 grant from the College Entrance Examination Board.

Hurricane Celia Aims Rain, Winds At Texas Gulf Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Celia aimed her 90 mile an hour winds at the Texas coast today as thousands of residents fled the approaching winds, rain and tides rolling in well above normal.

Police ordered some 3,000 persons evacuated from Port Aransas, a resort community on Mustang Island just off Corpus Christi. North Corpus Christi beach, a vacation area of motels, trailer parks and beaches, was ordered cleared too.

Some people were refusing to leave.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was expected to strike the coast later today with as much as eight inches of rain as well as high winds.

But it was the tides that were feared most in this very flat coastal area.

They were expected to be five to seven feet above normal.

At midmorning, the hurricane was about 135 miles from Corpus Christi and was heading straight for it. Winds were 90 miles an hour, a decrease from the earlier 115 m.p.h.

At Corpus Christi, the main bayfront area appeared calm. A few persons stood on the beach watching the water, which at 8 a.m. was normal. Streets carried normal morning traffic.

Police Cmdr. C. C. Hagan at Corpus Christi said, speaking of experience in previous hurricanes, "Our problem over there (on North Corpus Christi Beach) is the mobile homes. The people in mobile homes don't want to leave at first and then at the last minute they want to go and they can't get anybody to move them."

Swell 6 to 8 feet high — to the delight of some young surfers — pounded the coast in advance of the storm Sunday night while thousands of persons seeking to escape the fury of Celia clogged highways leading out of Galveston.

Aircraft owners as far from the coast as Houston—50 miles — flew their planes to safer areas in North Texas and Oklahoma. Pilots at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston began ferrying large C-130 cargo planes to safety at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio.

Ships at Houston, Galveston, Baytown and other Texas ports were expected to stay docked until passage of the storm.

Workers at Texas City were filling sand bags as a wall against expected high tides.

Gulf Coast rice and cotton farmers expressed fears a major storm would severely damage what has been expected to be an exceptionally good crop.

Red Cross and other civil relief agencies were gearing up shelters and relief centers along the coast for a possible 175,000 refugees. Red Cross units in Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois were put on a standby basis for possible duty in the storm area.

Emergency operations centers of the Texas Department of Public Safety were activated Sunday.

A Coast Guard plane from Corpus Christi was dispatched to alert offshore oil rig crews and persons in other remote areas of Celia's approach.

The Weather Bureau said tides of up to 6 feet—compared with normal highs of 2 feet—would likely occur in the area where Celia comes ashore.

President's Welfare Reform Plan Faces Big Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's welfare reform proposal faces major revision in the Senate Finance Committee, but at least one member has assured the White House the proposal will go before the full Senate.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the panel, said he had relayed such an assurance to Nixon through a top White House official.

"In all my years on this committee, it has never killed a major piece of legislation by bottling it up, even when the chairman and ranking members were opposed to it," he said.

"If President Nixon wants a Senate vote on this bill in this session, I am certain the committee will see that he gets it."

At the same time, Williams, a strong critic of the measure in its original and revised form, said bluntly, "This bill is in trouble in the committee as it now stands."

"I believe a big majority of the members will insist on changes before they will vote to report it out."

However, administration strategists in the Senate are not

Rhodes Orders KSU Grand Jury Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today directed Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown to call a special Portage County Grand Jury to probe last May's disorders on the Kent State University campus.

The cost of the grand jury investigation will be paid by the state.

The governor said he reluctantly chose to have the state take jurisdiction so it could assume the cost of the jury.

Commenting on the Kent State disorders, which ended after four students were shot to death in a confrontation with National Guardsmen, Rhodes said:

"The people of Ohio and of the nation are entitled to know what, if any, criminal acts took place at Kent State and who should be charged with perpetrating them."

A grand jury probe of the Kent disorders was urged last week by Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso Ohio National Guard Commander.

Del Corso predicted such an investigation would clear guardsmen of blame in the shootings, but result in indictments against a number of others.

Portage County Prosecutor Ronald J. Kane had asked the governor's office for $109,000 to call a regular Portage County Grand Jury to investigate the disorders, but Rhodes said the money could not be made available without special legislation, which would mean calling a special session of the legislature.

Roundtown

RETIRING County Superintendent George McDowell was back at his desk today only one day after assuming an advisory capacity to new Superintendent Judson Lanman.

Lanman was stricken Saturday evening at his home in what is guessed to be a severe muscle spasm.

He is presently undergoing tests to discover the cause and reported himself that he was feeling fine and doing quite well.

Tentative plans schedule his dismissal from Berger Hospital around Wednesday.

COUNTY jail was bulging at the seams Sunday morning when 43 guests showed up for breakfast.

The guests were really inmates who had filled the place to capacity and then some.

It had been a busy weekend for local law officers as the cooks can testify.

Claim LBJ Named As Veep To Get Him Out Of Senate

NEW YORK (AP) — Former presidential aide Kenneth O'Donnell says John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he felt that if elected he would be unable to "live with" Johnson as Senate majority leader.

O'Donnell, who served both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, said that four years later Johnson wanted Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana as his vice president for the same reason — to remove him from the key Senate leadership post.

O'Donnell's observations in the Aug. 7 issue of Life magazine are from a book he is writing. In addition to domestic politics, the account offers new background on early decisions on America's involvement in Vietnam.

O'Donnell said Kennedy, after consulting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Mansfield in

Nixon Pushes Anticrime Plan

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon meets in Denver today with state officials responsible for overseeing the use of federal law enforcement grants. He plans to seek their support for anticrime legislation.

Nixon, who has proposed 13 anticrime measures to Congress, said last week that since only one has been signed into law he would take advantage of the Denver conference to make a new appeal for congressional action on the other long-pending measures.

With the President for his 4½-hour visit to Colorado's capital en route back to Washington after a working holiday at the Western White House were to be Mrs. Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Some 200 state, territorial and District of Columbia officials responsible for spending grants from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration were in Denver to meet with Nixon.

The federal grants are aimed at improving the criminal justice system, including police departments, the courts and correctional institutions.

While Nixon and Mitchell are meeting with the LEAA funds administrators, Mrs. Nixon is to visit a home for delinquents and an antipoverty project center.

Major Colorado Republican figures—including Gov. John A. Love and Sen. Gordon Allott—and one Democrat, Denver Mayor William McNichols, were scheduled to welcome the presidential party to Colorado's mile-high capital.

Nixon, who flew to California with his wife on July 24, spent a relaxed if somewhat peripatetic weekend with two friends who flew in from the East.

Accompanied by C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo of Key Biscayne, Fla., and industrialist Robert Abplanalp of Bronxville, N.Y., Nixon drove Saturday to his birthplace at Yorba Linda, then to his old college at Whittier. He wound up eating a dish called "hobo steak" at Chasen's Restaurant in Los Angeles. The only aide who made the jaunt was foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Mouthwashes Just Offer Lip Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration says eight mouthwashes offer little more than lip service.

As a result, the agency today ordered the manufacturers to knock off advertising claims of killing bad breath, curing sore throats, or ridding common colds.

If they desire, the FDA says, the firms may continue to advertise "a pleasing effect to the mouth." But no medical claims.

The makers and their products:

Johnson and Johnson's Micrin Oral Antiseptic, Lever Brothers' Oresol Antiseptic Mouthwash, William S. Merrell Co.'s Cepacol, Warner Lambert Pharmaceutical Co.'s Sterisol, Purdue Frederick Co.'s Betadine, Isonine Pharmaceutical Co.'s Isonine, Kadesnol Corp.'s Kadesnol Mouthwash and Garle and Merck Co.'s Tyrolaris Mouthwash.

The FDA said a National Academy of Science study showed the mouthwashes had little or no germ killing power and "all were found to be ineffective for preventive or therapeutic claims."

The makers have 30 days to respond to the order. If they don't the FDA can move to prevent sale of the products.

Political Amnesty Eyed In Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — There was speculation today that President Jorge Pacheco Areco would declare a general amnesty for political prisoners to satisfy the ransom demand of the kidnappers of an American aid official and a Brazilian consul.

The government refused comment after the Tupamaro guerrillas Sunday demanded the release of all political prisoners.

The number of political prisoners is estimated to be between 100 and 150. The demand for their release was the largest in Latin America's 11-month-old wave of political kidnapping of foreign diplomats, but so far there was no threat to harm the two hostages. Nor was any deadline set.

Trade Figures Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Trade between Ohio and Europe now exceeds $500 million a year, according to David Draudt, director of the Ohio Development Department's European office.

REIGNING ROYALTY — All smiles, Vicki Fraunfelter and Larry Kempton accept trophies and cheers as they were named 1970 Pickaway County Fair King and Queen during opening day festivities Sunday evening. Runners-up in the field were Betty Jo Bolender and Steve Hines. Trophies were presented to the couple by the Circleville Jaycees. As the reigning King and Queen, Vicki and Larry will preside over Fair activities and serve as ambassadors from the county at other events and fairs during the year.

Midway Chatter

The 1970 Pickaway County Fair is in full swing. It has been designated the 25th annual Pickaway County Fair. But the first one was held in 1945 — and that figures out 26 fairs.

Saturday is always a busy day since that is the day most of the livestock and exhibits are brought to the fair.

Dr. Charles Hardin and Dr. Steve Yost were checking the health papers for livestock brought to the fair. The two veterinarians stopped the livestock trucks at the gate this year, eliminating a great deal of confusion and assuring that all animals were checked. But it kept them on the job rather late as the exhibitors with livestock were taking advantage of the cool evening hours.

C. R. Compton, 435 Half Ave., has a memento of the 1870 Pickaway County Fair. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Fraunfelter, was weighed on a Fairbanks Standard Scales during that event 100 years ago and was given a card certifying her weight, the date and the place.

Race Secretary John Fissell reports that the biggest race card ever is on tap Tuesday. Post time is 6 p.m. One race had to be split into three divisions and there will be six races and 12 heats.

Although the harness racing committee has provided excellent racing over the years, attendance in the grandstand has lagged. In an effort to boost the gate, the Fairboard is holding a drawing. Purchase of a race program makes a person eligible for the drawing.

A high metal fence has also been constructed from the grandstand to the first turn. Fissell said that USTA officials have said that only authorized personnel are to be allowed on the track or at the gate from the barn area to the track. The "railbirds" will have to go to the grandstand this year, the fair officials hope.

The loud speakers failed halfway through the king and queen contest Sunday just as Cindy McKay, queen candidate, was being interviewed. Cindy had to wait several uncomfortable minutes on the stage while the trouble was being rectified.

The Bolender family was prominent in the talent and the king and queen contests. Betty Jo was a queen candidate. Barbara presented a piano solo and Brenda a vocal solo.

Did you notice there were more queens than kings last night? Rick Pontius was to have been a candidate but was sick and just couldn't make the scene.

There were three queen candidates from Logan Elm, two king candidates and one queen candidate from Teays Valley and four queen and four king candidates from Westfall.

Defendants In Tate Case Unshaken

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The three long-haired girls in jail uniforms giggle and whisper at times while Charles M. Manson strokes his beard and makes funny faces at an artist drawing his picture.

At moments, the defendants in the Sharon Tate murder trial seem solemn. They sit with eyes downcast, scribbling pictures and notes.

Even the lurid testimony of the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, which has brought gasps from spectators has failed to shake the defendants visibly. The defense continues cross-examining her today.

Testimony by Mrs. Kasabian of group sex among their hippie-style "family" of drug usage and of the murders of Miss Tate and six others haven't moved the defendants.

The girls—Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22—smile directly at Mrs. Kasabian, a former "family" member. At one point, the shaggy-haired Manson focused his gaze on the witness while stroking his beard, and the girls picked up the motions, rhythmically stroking their faces and staring at Mrs. Kasabian.

Following Manson's lead, the women scratched crosses on their foreheads after he slashed one on his forehead with a razor blade. And his calm demeanor apparently has dictated theirs.

First Fair Board Honored In Ceremonies

Ceremonies at noon Sunday officially opened the 1970 Pickaway County Fair, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The members of the original fair board were honored at 8 p.m.

Included in activities on the first day was the selection of a King and Queen, Larry Kempton and Vicki Fraunfelter, to reign over festivities during Fair Week.

Shirley Fields took top honors in the talent contest presenting her rendition of "Life Gets Tedious, Don't It," spoofing hillbilly living.

HARD LIFE — Shirley Fields took top honors in the 4-H talent contest Sunday night with her musical portrayal of backwoods living.

Betty Jo Bolender and Steve Hines were named to alternate positions in the King and Queen judging before the large grandstand crowd.

OTHER winners in the talent division were Carol Winter and Cynthia Hedges in a musical number about childhood friendship and quarrels; Denise Morrison with a gymnastic dance routine; Sally Minor, vocal solo; and Cindy McCabe and Cathy Reed with a musical selection from "Cinderella."

Queen Vicki, a 1979 graduate of Logan Elm High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fraunfelter, Route 4. She is enrolled for the fall term at Ohio State University where she will major in the home economics field of fashion design.

Nerve Gas Dumping Is Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee launched today a probe into Army plans to dump more than 3,000 tons of obsolete nerve gas rockets into the Atlantic Ocean about 280 miles off Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Reps. Alton Lennon, D-N.C., and Paul Rogers D-Fla., called the meetings by the House merchant marine and fisheries subcommittee following the Army's disclosure of its plans.

Rogers said he wants to learn why the Army cannot dispose of the nerve gas in laboratories. He also questioned whether there has been sufficient study on what might happen if the gas leaked out on the ocean floor.

Representatives of the Army and departments of State, Interior, and Health, Education and Welfare have been called to testify.

Several congressmen have complained about the proposed plan to move the gas from Army depots at Anniston, Ala., and Lexington, Ky., to Sunny Point Arsenal near Southport, N.C.

The gas will be carried from there by barge and scuttled in 16,000 feet of water in the Atlantic on Aug. 10. The gas rockets will be encased in steel and concrete coffins.

Ferry Sinking May Be Fatal To 200 Aboard

Hurricane Celia Aims Rain, Winds At Texas Gulf Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Celia aimed her 90 mile an hour winds at the Texas coast today as thousands of residents fled the approaching winds, rain and tides rolling in well above normal.

Police ordered some 3,000 persons evacuated from Port Aransas, a resort community on Mustang Island just off Corpus Christi. North Corpus Christi beach, a vacation area of motels, trailer parks and beaches, was ordered cleared too.

President's Welfare Reform Plan Faces Big Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's welfare reform proposal faces major revision in the Senate Finance Committee, but at least one member has assured the White House the proposal will go before the full Senate.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the panel, said he had relayed such an assurance to Nixon through a top White House official.

"In all my years on this committee, it has never killed a major piece of legislation by bottling it up, even when the chairman and ranking members were opposed to it," he said.

"If President Nixon wants a Senate vote on this bill in this session, I am certain the committee will see that he gets it."

At the same time, Williams, a strong critic of the measure in its original and revised form, said bluntly, "This bill is in trouble in the committee as it now stands."

"I believe a big majority of the members will insist on changes before they will vote to report it out."

However, administration strategists in the Senate are not greatly concerned about any amendments the committee might adopt to cut back on the new Family Assistance Plan which the legislation would set up.

They believe there will be enough votes on the Senate floor to knock out any such changes.

A more important uncertainty surrounding the fate of the legislation appears now to involve the timing of Senate action. Some backers fear it will be impossible to get it passed by the Senate and through a Senate-House conference before Congress quits for the Nov. 3 elections.

Senate leaders have agreed to resume the session if legislative business is not finished.

The Finance Committee must hear Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson before it can begin on public witnesses. Hodgson will start his testimony Tuesday.

The committee staff said it had 400 requests from outside witnesses to testify on FAP and a related measure, increasing Social Security benefits and tightening the medicare and medicare health programs.

The staff estimates it will be well into September before testimony is completed. That would not leave much time for the panel to act on the bills in executive session and get them through the Senate and conference before Congress quits for the elections.

The governor said he reluctantly chose to have the state take jurisdiction so it could assume the cost of the jury.

Commenting on the Kent State disorders, which ended after four students were shot to death in a confrontation with National Guardsmen, Rhodes said:

"The people of Ohio and of the nation are entitled to know what, if any, criminal acts took place at Kent State and who should be charged with perpetrating them."

A grand jury probe of the Kent disorders was urged last week by Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Croso Ohio National Guard Commander.

Portage County Prosecutor Ronald J. Kane had asked the governor's office for $109,000 to call a regular Portage County Grand Jury to investigate the disorders, but Rhodes said the money could not be made available without special legislation, which would mean calling a special session of the legislature.

REIGNING ROYALTY — All smiles, Vicki Fraunfelter and Larry Kempton accept trophies and cheers as they were named 1970 Pickaway County Fair King and Queen during opening day festivities Sunday evening. Runners-up in the field were Betty Jo Bolender and Steve Hines. Trophies were presented to the couple by the Circleville Jaycees. As the reigning King and Queen, Vicki and Larry will preside over Fair activities and serve as ambassadors from the county at other events and fairs during the year.

Midway Chatter

The 1970 Pickaway County Fair is in full swing. It has been designated the 25th annual Pickaway County Fair. But the first one was held in 1945 — and that figures out 26 fairs.

Saturday is always a busy day since that is the day most of the livestock and exhibits are brought to the fair.

Dr. Charles Hardin and Dr. Steve Yost were checking the health papers for livestock brought to the fair. The two veterinarians stopped the livestock trucks at the gate this year, eliminating a great deal of confusion and assuring that all animals were checked. But it kept them on the job rather late as the exhibitors with livestock were taking advantage of the cool evening hours.

C. R. Compton, 435 Half Ave., has a memento of the 1870 Pickaway County Fair. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Frausure, was weighed on a Fairbanks Standard Scales during that event 100 years ago and was given a card certifying her weight, the date and the place.

Race Secretary John Fissell reports that the biggest race card ever is on tap Tuesday. Post time is 6 p.m. One race had to be split into three divisions and there will be six races and 12 heats.

Although the harness racing committee has provided excellent racing over the years, attendance in the grandstand has lagged. In an effort to boost the gate, the Fairboard is holding a drawing. Purchase of a race program makes a person eligible for the drawing.

A high metal fence has also been constructed from the grandstand to the first turn. Fissell said that USTA officials have said that only authorized personnel are to be allowed on the track or at the gate from the barn area to the track. The "railbirds" will have to go to the grandstand this year, the fair officials hope.

The loud speakers failed halfway through the king and queen contest Sunday just as Cindy McKay, queen candidate, was being interviewed. Cindy had to wait several uncomfortable minutes on the stage while the trouble was being rectified.

The Bolender family was prominent in the talent and the king and queen contests. Betty Jo was a queen candidate. Barbara presented a piano solo and Brenda a vocal solo.

Did you notice there were more queens than kings last night? Rick Pontius was to have been a candidate but was sick and just couldn't make the scene.

There were three queen candidates from Logan Elm, two king candidates and one queen candidate from Teays Valley and four queen and four king candidates from Westfall.

Defendants In Tate Case Unshaken

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The three long-haired girls in jail uniforms giggle and whisper at times while Charles M. Manson strokes his beard and makes funny faces at an artist drawing his picture.

At moments, the defendants in the Sharon Tate murder trial seem solemn. They sit with eyes downcast, scribbling pictures and notes.

Even the lurid testimony of the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, which has brought gasps from spectators has failed to shake the defendants visibly. The defense continues cross-examining her today.

Testimony by Mrs. Kasabian of group sex among their hippie-style "family" of drug usage and of the murders of Miss Tate and six others haven't moved the defendants.

The girls—Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22—smile directly at Mrs. Kasabian, a former "family" member. At one point, the shaggy-haired Manson focused his gaze on the witness while stroking his beard, and the girls picked up the motions, rhythmically stroking their faces and staring at Mrs. Kasabian.

Following Manson's lead, the women scratched crosses on their foreheads after he slashed one on his forehead with a razor blade. And his calm demeanor apparently has dictated theirs.

First Fair Board Honored In Ceremonies

Ceremonies at noon Sunday officially opened the 1970 Pickaway County Fair, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year. The members of the original fair board were honored at 8 p.m.

Included in activities on the first day was the selection of a King and Queen, Larry Kempton and Vicki Fraunfelter, to reign over festivities during Fair Week.

Shirley Fields took top honors, in the talent contest presenting her rendition of "Life Gets Tedious, Don't It," spoofing hillbilly living.

HARD LIFE — Shirley Fields took top honors in the 4-11 talent contest Sunday night with her musical portrayal of backwoods living.

Betty Jo Bolender and Steve Hines were named to alternate positions in the King and Queen judging before the large grandstand crowd.

OTHER winners in the talent division were Carol Winter and Cynthia Hedges in a musical number about childhood friendship and quarrels; Denise Morrison with a gymnastic dance routine; Sally Minor, vocal solo; and Cindy McCabe and Cathy Reed with a musical selection from "Cinderella."

Queen Vicki, a 1970 graduate of Logan Elm High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fraunfelter, Route 4. She is enrolled for the fall term at Ohio State University where she will major in the home economics field of fashion design.

Nerve Gas Dumping Is Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee launched today a probe into Army plans to dump more than 3,000 tons of obsolete nerve gas rockets into the Atlantic Ocean about 280 miles off Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Reps. Alton Lennon, D-N.C., and Paul Rogers D-Fla., called the meetings by the House merchant marine and fisheries subcommittee following the Army's disclosure of its plans.

Rogers said he wants to learn why the Army cannot dispose of the nerve gas in laboratories. He also questioned whether there has been sufficient study on what might happen if the gas leaked out on the ocean floor.

Representatives of the Army and departments of State, Interior, and Health, Education and Welfare have been called to testify.

Several congressmen have complained about the proposed plan to move the gas from Army depots at Anniston, Ala., and Lexington, Ky., to Sunny Point Arsenal near Southport, N.C.

The gas will be carried from there by barge and scuttled in 16,000 feet of water in the Atlantic on Aug. 10. The gas rockets will be encased in steel and concrete coffins.

Claim LBJ Named As Veep To Get Him Out Of Senate

NEW YORK (AP) — Former presidential aide Kenneth O'Donnell says John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he felt that if elected he would be unable to "live with" Johnson as Senate majority leader.

O'Donnell, who served both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, said that four years later Johnson wanted Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana as his vice president for the same reason — to remove him from the key Senate leadership post.

O'Donnell's observations in the Aug. 7 issue of Life magazine are from a book he is writing. In addition to domestic politics, the account offers new background on early decisions on America's involvement in Vietnam.

O'Donnell said Kennedy, after consulting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Mansfield in 1961 and 1962, agreed with both on "the need for a complete military withdrawal from Vietnam" but planned to withhold announcement until after the 1964 election.

Mansfield confirmed Sunday that Kennedy had "definitely and unequivocally" made the withdrawal decision in the spring of 1963, the Washington Post reported in today's editions.

On the selection of Johnson for the vice presidency, O'Donnell quoted Kennedy as offering this explanation at the 1960 Democratic convention:

"I'm 43 years old, and I'm the healthiest candidate for president in the United States. You've traveled with me enough to know that. I'm not going to die in office. So the vice presidency doesn't mean anything."

"I'm thinking of something else, the leadership of the Senate. If we win, it will be by a small margin and I won't be able to live with Lyndon Johnson as the leader of a small Senate majority. Did it occur to you that if Lyndon becomes the vice president, I'll have Mike Mansfield as the Senate leader, somebody I can trust and depend on?"

On the Vietnam involvement, O'Donnell wrote:

"President Kennedy first began to have doubts about our military effort in Vietnam in 1961, when both Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Gen. Charles de Gaulle warned him that the Asian mainland was no place to be fighting a non-nuclear land war."

"MacArthur was extremely critical of the military advice the President had been getting from the Pentagon," he wrote. "MacArthur went on to point out that there were domestic problems — the urban crisis, the ORIGINAL FAIR BOARD — Members of the first Pickaway County Fairboard were honored Sunday night through the talent and king and queen contests at the Grandstand. Present for recognition were, from left: George Hamrick, Pickaway County Agricultural Agent, who handled the introduction; Ben Gordon, Ralph Fisher, Ned Dresbach, J. Beryl Stevenson, Harold Strous, Russ Palm, all members of the original board, and Glenn McCoy, president of the present board.

Queen alternate Betty Jo Bolender is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender, Route 4 and king alternate Steve Hines, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hines, Route 1, Ashville.

Judges in the royalty contest were Jerry Rasor, WLW-C personality; Rev. Michael Wright of the Kingston United Methodist Church and Jane Logan, National Dairy Princess and 1970 Ohio State Fair Queen. Twelve-year-old Shirley Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fields, Route 1, Orient, was selected winner in the talent field by a judging team consisting of Mrs. Dwight Williams, Kingston; Mrs. John Wolfe and Ed Johnson of WRFD radio in Columbus.

EMCEE for both contests was a Lancaster radio personality, Johnny Garber.

The first Pickaway County Fair was held in 1945. It was largely through the efforts of the late Robert Musser the county was able to obtain the present fairgrounds.

Last night a plaque was presented by County Agricultural Agent George Hamrick to the Fair Board commemorating Musser.

In addition, the living members of the first fair board were honored. Present for the ceremony were Ben Gordon, Ralph Fisher, J. Beryl Stevenson, Russ Palm, Ned Dresbach and H. A. Strous. Four other members are living but were unable to attend.

They are Dan McClain, Forrest Short, Durward Dowden and Joseph Peters. Deceased members included Musser, Mack Parrott, K. L. Holtrey, Herschel Hill, L. D. May and C. W. Helvering.

A group of men had met in 1944 to name the members of the first board. In addition to the men previously named, this group included Boyd Stout and the late R. G. Colville and Fred Moeller. The 1944 group is sometimes referred to as the first board, but the men who served in 1945 are recognized by the Ohio Department of Agriculture as the first.

ACTIVITIES at the fair began today with the weighing of market livestock at 8 a.m. The 4-H tractor operator's contest began at 9 a.m. and continued into the afternoon.

Judging of 4-H home economics clothing projects also got underway at 9 a.m. and the miscellaneous 4-H project judging started at 1 p.m.

Also on top were the flower show at 1:30, the junior fair livestock judging contest at 3 p.m., the 4-H horse and pony show at 6 p.m. and the junior fair dance at 8 p.m. in the 4-H and Grange Building.

Tuesday's activities begin with the 4-H swine show at 8:30 a.m. Harold DeLong, herdsman at Ohio State University and a former Pickaway County hog farmer, is the judge of the show.

Harness racing at 6 p.m. tomorrow is scheduled and race secretary John Fissell has another outstanding speed program scheduled.

At 8 p.m. Tuesday the grandstand attraction is the annual battle of the bands.

Each camper was presented with a packet containing a comb, toothbrush and toothpaste, soap, wash cloth and towel from the women of the First Baptist Church who made and filled the bags.

The children were accompanied to camp by Pat Dawley of Children Services who was responsible for all camping arrangements, and Roberta Clark.

Two car fires were reported Sunday to the Circleville Fire Department.

At 11:38 a.m. firemen were called to Route 23 at the Route 22 bypass to extinguish a blaze in an auto driven by John Gronne, Columbus. The fire was a result of a faulty gasoline pump which leaked gasoline on to a hot exhaust pipe. Damage was estimated at $100.

Later that afternoon a 3:45 a.m. car was reported on fire at the corner of S. Court and Ohio St. The auto belonged to Janet Willison, Columbus. Cause of the blaze was a backfire into the carburetor. There was no loss reported.

Manhunt Ends In Bean Patch

A manhunt Saturday morning resulted in the capture of a former Columbus State Hospital inmate in a field in Harrison Township.

Victor Eugene Lane, 26, Columbus, is in Pickaway County jail waiting the arrival of State Hospital authorities.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff filed an affidavit in probate court Monday morning alleging Lane mentally incompetent.

The Sheriff's Department received a call from a Route 2, Ashville resident at 8:33 a.m. Saturday stating a man with a rifle was lying along Route 316.

DEPUTIES Charles Dolby and Warren Straley were dispatched to the location. Arriving on the scene they found the man had fled into a corn field leaving the weapon behind.

Assisted by the Ohio Highway Patrol plane, a search of the area failed to turn up the subject.

At 10:34 a.m. the Sheriff's Department received a second call. This call came from a resident west of the search area who stated a man was hiding in the trees.

Radcliff along with Deputies Bob Hoover, Don Thompson, Dolby and Straley began a search of the area and found Lane crawling through a bean patch where they took him into custody.

Dewey Denied Release From Sentence

Pickaway County's Common Pleas Courtroom was the scene today of a hearing seeking the court to terminate a sentence against James E. Dewey on the grounds of illegal arrest.

Dewey, presently serving a 1-20 year term in the London Correctional Institute, asked Judge William Ammer to consider his cause after his case came before the Adult Parole Authority in February and he was denied probation until 1973.

When arrested in Pickaway County in 1968 he was wanted for check forgery and violation of probation. He was picked up in the county by a Harrisburg marshal whose authority is limited to Franklin County.

Judge Ammer denied Dewey's request, stating that in waiving his rights to a jury trial, in failing to file while jailed or in not resisting arrest when knowing the Harrison officer had no jurisdiction, he had lost his right to petition on those grounds.

Ammer further informed Dewey's attorney, Roger Bennington, and County Prosecutor Roy H. Huffer that his right to petition on those Parole Authority on Dewey's case concerning parole eligibility.

Bruce Set For Talks With Reds

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador David K.E. Bruce arrived today to take over the U.S. delegation at the Vietnam peace talks and said he was "a broad latitude" from President Nixon in trying to end the deadlock.

The 72-year-old white-haired veteran diplomat was relaxed and smiling as he talked briefly with newsmen at Orly Airport.

"I will participate in this week's session of the Vietnam conference" he said.

"The United States desires to see an end to the conflict and I shall report frequently to the President and the secretary of state on how hopefully progress is made at this conference and I shall also make recommendations to them."

It was the first time that a ranking American delegation official has publicly described the Vietnam talks as a "conference."

The word conference is used by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong as part of their effort to emphasize the status of the Viet Cong delegation. The United States and South Vietnam for the past 19 months have refused to elevate the Vietnam talks to the level of a full conference.

Present for recognition were, from the left: George Hamrick, Pickaway County Agricultural Agent, who handled the introduction; Ben Gordon, Ralph Fisher, Ned Dresbach, J. Beryl Stevenson, Harold Strous, Russ Palm, all members of the original board, and Glenn McCoy, president of the present board.

First Fair . . .

lives at Route 2, Williamsport with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kempton. He has plans to study agriculture economics in college.

Queen alternate Betty Jo Bolender is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender, Route 4 and King alternate Steve Hines, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hines, Route 1, Ashville.

Judges in the royalty contest were Jerry Rasor, WLWC personality; Rev. Michael Wright of the Kingston United Methodist Church and Jane Logan, National Dairy Princess and 1970 Ohio State Fair Queen. Twelve-year-old Shirley Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fields, Route 1, Orient, was selected winner in the talent field by a judging team consisting of Mrs. Dwight Williams, Kingston; Mrs. John Wolfe and Ed Johnson of WRFD radio in Columbus.

EMCEE for both contests was a Lancaster radio personality, Johnny Garber.

The first Pickaway County Fair was held in 1945. It was largely through the efforts of the late Robert Musser the county was able to obtain the present fairgrounds.

Last night a plaque was presented by County Agricultural Agent George Hamrick to the Fair Board commemorating Musser.

In addition, the living members of the first fair board were honored. Present for the ceremony were Ben Gordon, Ralph Fisher, J. Beryl Stevenson, Russ Palm, Ned Dresbach and H. A. Strous. Four other members are living but were unable to attend.

They are Dan McClain, Forrest Short, Durward Dowden and Joseph Peters. Deceased members include Musser, Mack Parrott, K. L. Holtrey, Herschel Hill, L. D. May and C. W. Helvering.

A group of men had met in 1944 to name the members of the first board. In addition to the men previously named, this group included Boyd Stout and the late R. G. Colville and Fred Moeller. The 1944 group is sometimes referred to as the first board, but the men who served in 1945 are recognized by the Ohio Department of Agriculture as the first.

ACTIVITIES at the fair began today with the weighing of market livestock at 8 a.m. The 4-H tractor operator's contest began at 9 a.m., and continued into the afternoon.

Judging of 4-H home economics clothing projects also got underway at 9 a.m. and the miscellaneous 4-H project judging started at 1 p.m.

Also on top were the flower show at 1:30, the junior fair livestock judging contest at 3 p.m., the 4-H horse and pony show at 6 p.m. and the junior fair dance at 8 p.m. in the 4-H and Grange Building.

Tuesday's activities begin with the 4-H swine show at 8:30 a.m. Harold DeLong, herdsman at Ohio State University and a former Pickaway County hog farmer, is the judge of the show.

Harness racing at 6 p.m. tomorrow is scheduled and race secretary John Fissel has a number of outstanding speed program scheduled.

At 8 p.m. Tuesday the grandstand attraction is the annual battle of the bands.

Dewey Denied Release From Sentence

Pickaway County's Common Pleas Courtroom was the scene today of a hearing seeking the court to terminate a sentence against James E. Dewey on the grounds of illegal arrest.

Dewey, presently serving a 1-20 year term in the London Correctional Institute, asked Judge William Ammer to consider his cause after his case came before the Adult Parole Authority in February and he was denied probation until 1973.

When arrested in Pickaway County in 1968 he was wanted for check forgery and violation of probation. He was picked up in the county by a Harrisburg marshal whose authority is limited to Franklin County.

Judge Ammer denied Dewey's request, stating that in waiving his rights to a jury trial, in failing to file while jailed or in not resisting arrest when knowing the Harrison officer had no jurisdiction, he had lost his right to petition on those grounds.

Ammer further informed Dewey's attorney, Roger Bennington, and County Prosecutor Roy H. Huffer that his right to petition on those Parole Authority on Dewey's case concerning parole eligibility.

Bruce Set For Talks With Reds

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador David K.E. Bruce arrived today to take over the U.S. delegation at the Vietnam peace talks and said he was "a broad latitude" from President Nixon in trying to end the deadlock.

The 72-year-old white-haired veteran diplomat was relaxed and smiling as he talked briefly with newsmen at Orly Airport.

"I will participate in this week's session of the Vietnam conference" he said.

"The United States desires to see an end to the conflict and I shall report frequently to the President and the secretary of state on how hopefully progress is made at this conference and I shall also make recommendations to them."

It was the first time that a ranking American delegation official has publicly described the Vietnam talks as a "conference."

The word conference is used by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong as part of their effort to emphasize the status of the Viet Cong delegation. The United States and South Vietnam for the past 19 months have refused to elevate the Vietnam talks to the level of a full conference.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Vows OK, But This Is Going Too Far

DEAR ABBY: A wife wrote that her husband got his kicks from asking her to don black sheer lingerie, high heels, and tying her up with ropes. She said he was a good husband except for this, and she asked you if you thought he could be dangerous. You advised her not to stick around to find out.

Abby, when this couple took their marriage vows, they promised it would be for better or for worse, in sickness and in health. And YOU tell her to call it quits. A fine counselor you are!

I had to make an adjustment in my sex life when I got married because I wasn't even sure my husband was normal. I went to my doctor and he told me that anything that was agreeable to both parties sexually was all right, and did not constitute a "far out fetish" — which is how you described that husband's behavior.

It takes different things to excite different people. That man just happened to like his woman in black sheer lingerie, high heels and tied up with ropes. Maybe that wife should learn to make an adjustment. Of course, it's probably too late for her now because if she took your advice she's already left him.

KNOWS THE ROPES
DEAR KNOWS: I, too, believe that anything that is agreeable to both parties sexually is acceptable behavior. But this woman said she was terrified and repulsed by this kind of "play," but her husband, knowing how frightened she was, kept after her to go along with it because it excited HIM. This, in my opinion, is cruel, selfish and brutal.

"Do you think he could be dangerous?" she asked. "If you stick around to find out and discover later that he was, don't say I didn't warn you." I replied. And what I said still goes.

DEAR ABBY: My oldest sister, Marion, has been like a mother to my brother and me since we were orphaned at an early age.

My brother's wife, Donna, had a misunderstanding with Marion 6 years ago, and they haven't spoken to each other since. (Naturally, my brother took his wife's side.)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Andy Griffith and associates were organizing his new CBS series, "Headmaster," Andy said he would like "a Parker Fennelly-type" to play the school custodian.

In a rare demonstration of direct action, Fennelly's agent was reached. The actor was signed to play a role that, over years of radio, films and television, has become his specialty: homely New England philosopher.

Fennelly, a professional actor since 1916, was hired to play Titus Moody in the "Fred Allen Show" of radio in the late 1940s.

The tall, spare, white-haired actor, his Maine accent undiluted after an absence of 40 years from his native state, explained that he is kept busy because "actors of a certain age are likely to be retired—or dead."

Fennelly's Titus Moody occupied a house in Allen's Alley for three seasons and his "howdy, Bub" became a catch phrase. "Fred, who came from the Boston area, always liked New England characters," Fennelly said. "When the series was over, he gave me the character name and the use of all the Titus Moody material."

Allen's hour, which moved to television for half a season, was killed by public enthusiasm for one of the first big-money giveaway shows.

For the past 16 years Fennelly has been the advertising spokesman — giving dry New England advice — for a bakery products company.

"I pretty nearly always am playing the same character, although the names are different," he said.

It will still be Titus, but he is called "Mr. Purdy," in the Griffith series. As usual, he'll pause while clipping a hedge or painting a wall to deliver some wry humorous wisdom such as, "You can thank your lucky stars that you're good enough to be ordinary instead of outstanding."

Confederate partisans of Vicksburg, Mississippi, had little cause to celebrate on July 4, 1863. On that day Union forces captured the city after a long siege, lowered the Stars and Bars from atop the Warren County courthouse and raised the American flag.

Give me the patience to control myself after having turned the office upside down to find a letter the boss is sure I "misfiled"—then he finds it in the inside pocket of his jacket.

Nab 52 In Raid

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fifty-two persons, all but eight of them juveniles, were arrested early Sunday when State liquor agents conducted an after hours raid on the Gigolo Nightclub in suburban Sylvania.

Confederate partisans of Vicksburg, Mississippi, had little cause to celebrate on July 4, 1863. On that day Union forces captured the city after a long siege, lowered the Stars and Bars from atop the Warren County courthouse and raised the American flag.

Nuclear Power Needed

Not many years ago, fears were expressed in fossil fuel industry circles that the atom would become the nemesis of oil, coal and gas. Subsequent history has proved such fears groundless, for at least two reasons.

Nuclear energy has grown more slowly than optimistically predicted in its infancy, and growing demands for electricity are providing ample opportunities for conventional generating plants.

So great is the future of electrical generation in the United States, all projections indicate that, even assuming an optimistic forecast of nuclear power development, the use of coal by the rapidly expanding electric generating industry will increase severalfold over the next 30 years.

The atom may actually extend the life of the fossil fuel industries by helping meet some of the new demand toward the end of this century. Known deposits of petroleum and coal will be exhausted within a century.

Some nuclear experts foresee a day when special nuclear furnaces will produce more fuel than they consume. This phenomenon is outside the life expectancy of most Americans, but it will insure the future of an industry which contributes most heavily to the high standards of living currently enjoyed.

National Playgrounds

With only a few more weeks of enjoyment remaining this season in many of the nation's parks, it is worthwhile noting that both the growth of the national park system and the enjoyment of its natural playgrounds have accelerated over the years, until today the parks, lakes and fishing resorts are by long odds the foremost tourist attractions in the United States.

It is a tribute to the availability, inexpensiveness and variety of beauty offered by the national parks that they are enjoyed so greatly. These parks did not just happen.

A combination of foresight on the part of Congress, good management by the park service and a continuing subsidy by the taxpayers has made them a heritage future generations will enjoy as greatly as the present one does.

This day should be celebrated as Columbus Day. Forget all that Oct. 12 jazz. It was on this date in 1492 that good old Chris sailed from Palos, Spain, to find what he thought would be India but hit the jackpot instead — America!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I hope the people of Circleville realize that a number of good camping and picnicking grounds exist in this area. Hargus Lake, A. W. Marion State Park, is a great place with its charcoal stoves, picnic tables, restrooms, good fishing, and boating. I have lived in cities where no such place existed within a 20-mile radius; some good campgrounds were over a hundred miles away.

I urge the people of Circleville to use these areas and take good care of them, or in a few years there might not be any such places left. As a new resident of Circleville, I am happy to be able to find a place like Hargus Lake nearby.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What special precautions should be taken for a 10-year-old boy who has recovered from an attack of rheumatic fever?

Mrs. T. K., Washington
Dear Mrs. K: One of the best guides to recovery from rheumatic fever is a sedimentation test of the blood. This is an interesting test that depends on how rapidly red blood cells taken from the patient fall to the bottom of a test tube.

When this remains normal for a few weeks and if there has been no heart complications, the condition can be assumed to be arrested. Each case must be individually evaluated by the doctor who has been following the patient. Undoubtedly, your son's doctor has been prescribing antibiotics intensively to keep his condition under control.

Because there is a tendency for some cases to have a recurrence, many physicians continue the use of antibiotics for many months and even years, to avoid this possibility. Moderate restriction of activity to avoid fatigue is part of the after-care program. It is most important that the child be allowed freedom of activity as prescribed by his doctor so that he will not be embarrassed in his relationship with friends. When once he is physically recovered he must be made to feel emotionally recovered, too.

Can a person be unusually brilliant in one area and absolutely stupid in another?

Mr. J.J., Ohio
Dear Mr. J.: I would rather phrase the question to refer to differences of mental activity, rather than to "stupidity."

It is well-known that some people can be unusually brilliant and talented in some areas and be inconsequential in others.

Historically, there are many reported cases of "idiot savant" — one who may, for example, be a mathematical genius and yet not be able to function in society.

One of the aims of modern education is to avoid concentrating on highly specialized intellectual gifts and instead to encourage a well-rounded attainment.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Aug. 3, the 215th day of 1970. There are 150 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1492, Christopher Columbus sailed from Palos, Spain. The voyage resulted in the discovery of America.

On this date: In 1780, during the American Revolution, Benedict Arnold was put in command of the fortification at West Point, N.Y.

In 1881, British troops occupied the Egyptian town of Suez. In 1882 the U.S. Congress levied a "head" tax of 50 cents on each immigrant entering the United States.

In 1914, Germany declared war on France. In 1951, it was disclosed that 90 cadets had been dismissed from the U.S. military academy at West Point for cheating in examinations.

In 1958, the atomic-powered U.S. submarine Nautilus made the first undersea crossing of the North Pole.

Ten years ago — A Cuban army major who had been a close associate of Premier Fidel Castro, Raul Chibas, arrived at Key West, Fla., by boat and asked for political asylum.

Five years ago — Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser was reported to have started soundings with Communist China and North Vietnam on prospects for Vietnam peace negotiations.

One year ago — More than 90 persons were injured in religious strife in the Northern Ireland city of Belfast.

Parks Without Money

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
WASHINGTON — President Richard Nixon is a puzzle only to those who haven't pondered his career. He is not a standard conservative. But neither is he a standard liberal. He is what might be called a pay-as-you-go do-gooder, one who would like to do a lot of things for people without breaking the dollar in two.

The circumstances of his election, which have put him in the White House with a war to liquidate, an inflation to halt, and a defense establishment to keep up to snuff, lest the Communists get the drop on us, leave him with little scope for his do-gooding instincts. How can he possibly raise the money to pay for parks, hospitals, schools, bigger airports, new historic monuments and all the other things he would like to bestow upon his public?

The cynic might answer that the President had better forego his welfarist ambitions. But this is not the answer that an ingenious group of people in the General Services Administration and their allies in the White House have been offering. Robert Kunzig, the director of GSA, and Dan Kingsley, his assistant in charge of federal property disposal, working in conjunction with White House adviser Martin Anderson and Darrell Trent, the executive director of something called the Property Review Board, have come up with one of the brightest ideas of the decade.

The federal government, so this group has noticed, owns $68 billion worth of various types of property aside from the unmeasured riches of the federal domain (forests, grazing lands and so on). Some of the property in the $68 billion grab-bag belongs to agencies that make no effort to use it, let alone keep it from deteriorating. Some of it is jealously guarded as a possible source for future empire-building. There is no doubt that the people are getting little or no use out of abandoned military establishments, rundown public buildings and land that is growing up to sumach and briar patches.

The bright idea of the GSA group and their White House allies is to sell or trade the more useless part of the $68 billion worth of public property and put the proceeds into parks, hospitals, schools and the like. This can be done without adding a nickel to the U.S. tax bill, or without inflating the currency by as much as a single dime. It would simply bring rationality into the federal inventory picture. The proposition is to work out the necessary details with the federal agencies involved and with the state, county and municipal bodies that stand in need of new parks, schools and enlarged airports.

Non-federal governing bodies would be expected to pay something for land and buildings taken for local public purposes, say 50 per cent of fair market value. There would be compliance restrictions to keep a non-federal unit from using the acquired property for other than a stated purpose.

The Kunzig-Kingsley team is already in business, using Executive Order 11508 to make its own inventory of what is called "withdrawn public domain land" and other property, meaning resources that have come into the possession of the Army, the Navy, the Department of Interior and other federal agencies. Twenty-two separate properties have been offered for survey. When there is resistance to relinquishing unused land or buildings a

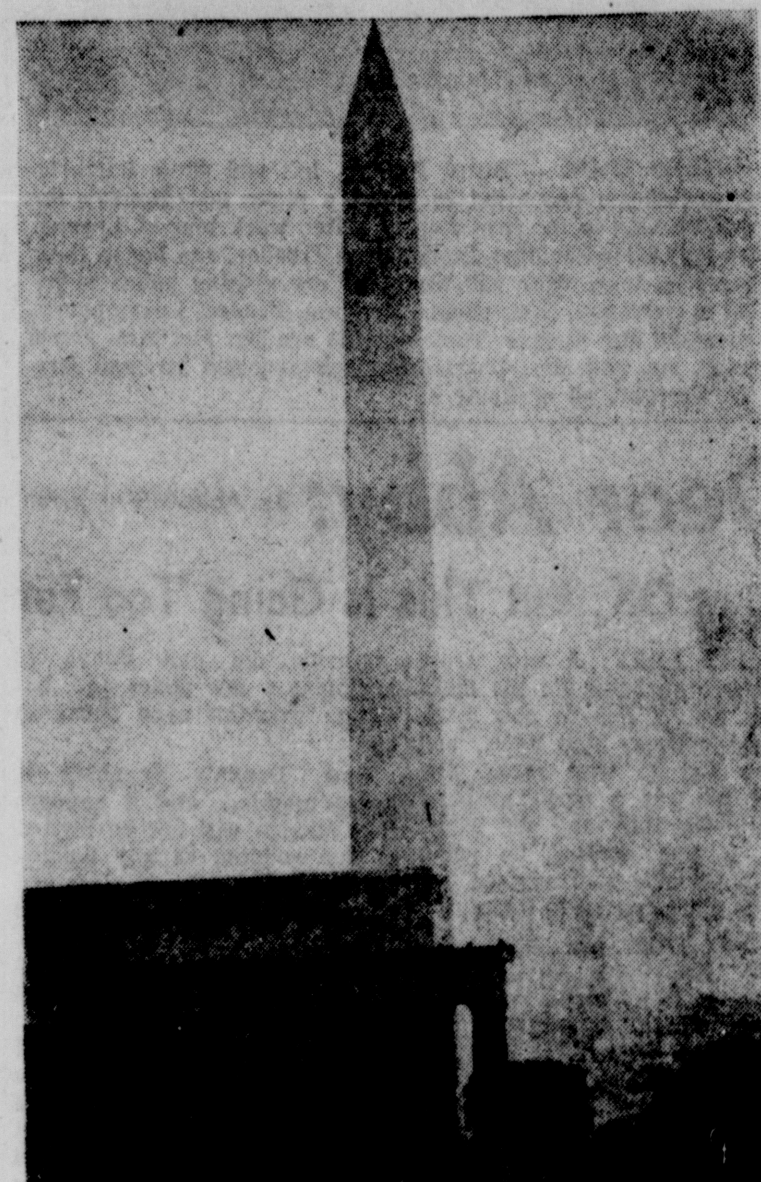

The United States is the home of the best surviving souvenir of the storming and wrecking of the Bastille on July 14, 1789, the incident that started the French Revolution. The Marquis de Lafayette gave the key to the Bastille to his friend George Washington who hung it in Mount Vernon where it remains today.

seven-member Property Review Board chaired by Bryce Harlow is called upon to deliver a verdict.

The process of selling or transferring property is called "excessing." The Department of Defense has already "excessed" its Sands Point (Long Island) training station, yielding it to the Department of the Interior to pass on to bodies which are disposed to use it constructively. The present proposition is to let Nassau County take part of it for public park purposes, and to let the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare have another chunk for school purposes.

The Department of the Interior is currently weighing the various claims. Another bit of "excessing" enabled the government to get rid of an old public hospital in Washington by trading it for a shut-down amusement park at Glen Echo in the Potomac Valley. The trade enabled the Department of the Interior to ground out its Potomac River park property at no cost to the taxpayer.

With $68 billion to inspect for rational uses, the people could end up by getting maximum value out of what they theoretically own. Nixon may yet get some of his "do-gooder" wishes without ruining the Federal credit.

WASHINGTON SMOG-BOUND—Above is a view of the Lincoln Memorial with the Washington Monument and the Capitol in the background as a stagnant air mass brings the area close to a "pollution" alert.

Man, Daughter Drown In Lake

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — A Euclid man and his 23-year-old daughter were presumed drowned in Lake Erie near here after a search by the Coast Guard failed to produce any trace of the pair Sunday.

Missing were William Tieber, 49, an executive pilot for TRW Inc. and his daughter, Carol, a teacher at Arlington Elementary School in Parma.

Tieber and his daughter, described as expert swimmers, had been on a boat Saturday night with Miss Tieber's fiancé, Michael V. Demczyk, 24, of Parma, when they decided to go for a swim in the choppy waters. Demczyk stayed aboard the 16-foot boat.

Demczyk said he last saw the two about a half-mile off Kelly's Island northwest of Marblehead Beach.

At one time the house on wheels was referred to as a trailer. This lead many people to believe that they were just a little convenient apparatus for transients, circus people and theater road companies. For the true meaning of a trailer is, a cart, wagon, sled, house on wheels or any vehicle pulled by a motor car. So you can see where this definition of a house on wheels might have misled the public.

The mobile home is what people now lovingly call their house on wheels. For it is truly that... a mobile home. All the conveniences and living enjoyments of a stationary house with the extra convenience of mobility.

OFBF To Support Ohio Income Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Farm Bureau President Robert Summer said Friday the bureau's tax study committee probably will recommend a state income tax for Ohio.

Summer told a special session here the state was too dependent on property taxes to finance schools and local governments. Summer said the study group is investigating ways of achieving an equitable tax structure that will also provide for sufficient revenues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both houses of Congress will investigate the Pentagon's plan to ship 68 tons of deadly nerve gas to the Atlantic Ocean for dumping—a plan that includes emergency measures the Defense Department says will be unnecessary.

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., said Friday representatives of the Army and departments of State, Interior and Welfare will be invited to testify beginning Monday before the House merchant marine subcommittee on oceanography.

Rogers was followed several hours later by Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., who announced his Senate oceanography subcommittee will begin hearings on the plan next Wednesday.

Less than a week later—about Aug. 10—one train will move out from Anniston, Ala., and another from Lexington, Ky., along unannounced routes no faster than 35 miles per hour toward the coast near Southport, N.C. There, according to the plan, 15,540 gas-filled rockets encased in 418 concrete coffins wrapped in steel will be loaded aboard a ship and carted out 280 miles off the Florida coast where the ship will be scuttled.

Hollings called the project "extremely important because of its potential threat to the safety and well-being of our citizens." He said he hopes to "find the facts and talk to the experts."

The Army says it will inform hospitals along the way to stock up on atropine, an antidote that has to be injected into a large muscle immediately after contact with the odorless, tasteless gas.

Contact with the gas can kill

BCI Assists Probe Of Fatal Shooting

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Police have asked the Bureau of Criminal Identification in London to assist in an investigation of the fatal shooting early Sunday of an attendant at a service station on I-70.

David Miller, 17, of Zanesville, who had been robbed just a week earlier, was shot eight times police said. About $60 was missing from the till.

in less than two minutes without the tropine injection.

Last year the Pentagon backed down from a plan to ship several rail carsloads of deadly World War I surplus gas from Colorado to New Jersey for dumping at sea. Public outcry generally was credited with convincing the Defense Department to destroy the gas chemically in Colorado.

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., said Friday representatives of the Army and departments of State, Interior and Welfare will be invited to testify beginning Monday before the House merchant marine subcommittee on oceanography.

Rogers was followed several hours later by Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., who announced his Senate oceanography subcommittee will begin hearings on the plan next Wednesday.

Less than a week later—about Aug. 10—one train will move out from Anniston, Ala., and another from Lexington, Ky., along unannounced routes no faster than 35 miles per hour toward the coast near Southport, N.C. There, according to the plan, 15,540 gas-filled rockets encased in 418 concrete coffins wrapped in steel will be loaded aboard a ship and carted out 280 miles off the Florida coast where the ship will be scuttled.

Hollings called the project "extremely important because of its potential threat to the safety and well-being of our citizens." He said he hopes to "find the facts and talk to the experts."

The Army says it will inform hospitals along the way to stock up on atropine, an antidote that has to be injected into a large muscle immediately after contact with the odorless, tasteless gas.

Contact with the gas can kill

BCI Assists Probe Of Fatal Shooting

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Police have asked the Bureau of Criminal Identification in London to assist in an investigation of the fatal shooting early Sunday of an attendant at a service station on I-70.

David Miller, 17, of Zanesville, who had been robbed just a week earlier, was shot eight times police said. About $60 was missing from the till.

in less than two minutes without the tropine injection.

Last year the Pentagon backed down from a plan to ship several rail carloads of deadly World War I surplus gas from Colorado to New Jersey for dumping at sea. Public outcry generally was credited with convincing the Defense Department to destroy the gas chemically in Colorado.

Youth Held In Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati teen-ager was scheduled to appear in Hamilton County Municipal Court today on a first-degree murder charge in a brutal slaying here.

Cincinnati Homicide Squad detectives filed the charge Saturday against Jerry Tarpley, a Negro, who they said was a member of the self-described "Head Hunters."

Tarpley was charged in the death of Vito Milillo, 73, who was dragged from his home in the Over-The-Rhine section on July 18 and then beaten and kicked.

He was also robbed of $74. Police had said that four Negro youths were involved in the slaying but Sgt. Eugene Moore of the Homicide Squad said Saturday that no other charges were expected to be filed.

Tarpley was arrested at an apartment here which police had staked-out.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's state universities are responding to student demands for more relevant studies and a greater voice in designing their education programs with a wide variety of new course offerings, a new study shows.

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, in a survey of its 114 members, said new courses range from one in philosophy at the University of Nebraska that will go into sexual morality, drug abuse, racism and violence to a community service program at the University of North Carolina where students can earn up to $1,000. Students have demanded on many campuses a voice in shaping what they study to obtain their degrees. The University of Hawaii, Cornell University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology have announced new programs giving students a voice in what subjects they will take to earn their majors.

At the same time, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the University of Rhode Island said students would have more freedom in selecting their courses.

There appears to be a rush on most campuses to new courses in environmental control and ethnic studies.

The environmental field has a wide range of subject matter. The University of Arizona is offering Environmental Politics and the University of Iowa Industry and the Natural Environment, while Clemson University, Washington State University and the University of California at Davis have programs on contemporary environmental issues, environmental science and a new living-learning environmental studies program.

Minorities, a big issue on the campuses in the late 1960s, is continuing to expand in the field of black studies and at the same time broadened to cover Mexican-Americans and the American Indian.

In the field of relevant education, the University of Alabama has added a home economics course zeroing in on the problems of the aged. The University of Oklahoma, in a new masters program in human relations, will have students working as interns with social agencies.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte, in cooperation with the city, will allow students to earn credits and cash by working in community services

Metzenbaum Wants Space Probe Halted

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—"Let's not worry about bringing back that third bag of rocks from the moon," Howard Metzenbaum said Sunday in urging that the federal government halt its space exploration program.

The Democratic candidate for the Senate told a party gathering the government should use funds now spent on space to increase support of education.

such as tutoring disadvantaged children, working in hospitals and in depressed areas.

Use Of Wiretaps Results In 419 Arrests, Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports it has used wiretaps or electronic surveillance in 133 cases in the past 18 months—and 419 persons have been arrested as a result.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the accounting vindicated the judgment of the Senate in approving wiretapping with court permission.

"Fortunately, the present administration is making forceful and effective use of it," McClellan said in placing the wiretapping report in the Congressional Record.

McClellan said opponents of the bill that legalized wiretaps contended it would permit "promiscuous snooping and the

Find Body Of Infant Said Missing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The badly decomposed body of an infant boy discovered here Sunday night has been tentatively identified as that of Eric Wesley Willis, missing since July 25, police reported.

Columbus firemen found the body wrapped in a blanket near Norfolk and Western railroad tracks.

Two 10-year-old girls found part of the body early Sunday night. They informed their mother, she called authorities.

The 11-month-old missing child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Willis. Police said they intended to question the couple.

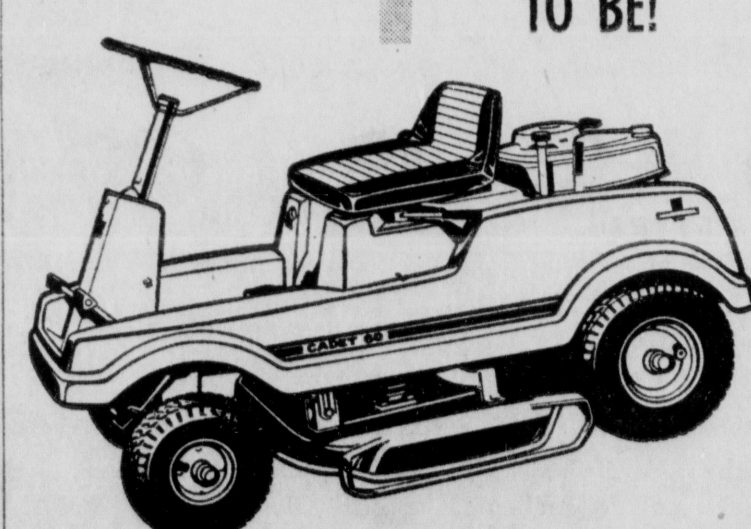

When the infant was reported missing, his mother told police she had put him to bed the night of the 24th, and discovered his absence the next morning.

The child's father was charged July 27 with possession of heroin and instruments, it was reported. After pleading not guilty he was bound over to the Grand Jury.

Police said there were no signs of violence on the child's body.

American Hurt In Chinese Storm

HONG KONG (AP) — Lightning killed two Chinese in Hong Kong's mainland New Territories during a nightlong storm Sunday night, and an American and three Chinese were injured by bricks from a building that collapsed in the driving rain.

The American was Chris Blauvelt, 22, a Peace Corps member from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, who had stopped off in Hong Kong en route to his assignment. A spokesman for the U.S. Consulate said he was bruised, scratched and shaken up but would probably be released from the hospital Thursday or Friday.

The rain touched off scores of landslides that blocked roads on Hong Kong island. Up to three feet of water flooded roads and streets.

ghettos, the economy — that should have far more priority than Vietnam.

"Kennedy came out of the meeting somewhat stunned. That a man like MacArthur should give him such unmilitary advice impressed him enormously."

The following year, O'Donnell says, Mansfield returned from a visit to Southeast Asia and "emphatically advised, first, a curb on sending more military reinforcements to South Vietnam and, then a withdrawal of U.S. forces from that country's civil war."

After criticism from Mansfield in 1963 for his support of the Diem regime in Saigon, O'Donnell says, Kennedy told him he agreed the United States should withdraw but told him that "if he announced a total withdrawal . . . before the 1964 election, there would be a wild conservative outcry against returning him to the presidency for a second term."

O'Donnell was White House appointments secretary under Kennedy and after Kennedy's assassination Nov. 22, 1963, remained under President Johnson as a special aide until after the 1964 campaign.

He also says that Johnson was clearly opposed to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as a running mate and "frequently ridiculed the garrulous Minnesota senator in private."

As president, Johnson was "obsessed" with the idea that Robert Kennedy would try to force himself into the vice presidency in 1964, says O'Donnell, although Kennedy had privately rejected that possibility and laid plans to run for the Senate in New York.

Will Question State Officials In Loan Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Assistant Prosecutor John Peck says he will call Treasurer John Herbert, Auditor Roger Cloud, Sen. Robin Turner and Atty. Gen. Paul Brown before a grand jury investigating the state loans scandal.

The four Republican officeholders will testify in the next two weeks, Peck said, along with officials of LCM Corp. and Crofters, Inc., two firms involved in consulting and arranging $50 million in state loans.

Although all four state officials received campaign contributions from officers of Crofters, Peck said he is calling them to testify because of their official connections in the loans situation.

Cloud is the GOP candidate for governor, Herbert and Turner won their party's nominations for attorney general and treasurer, respectively. Brown lost a bid for the gubernatorial nomination.

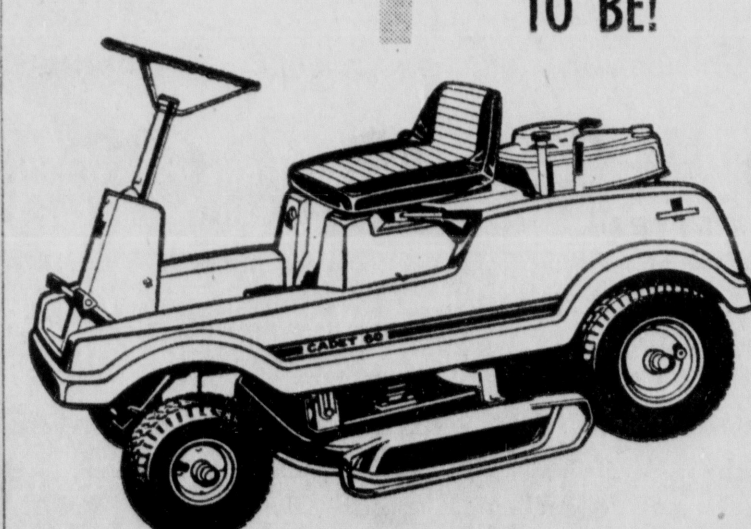

The grand jury is expected to complete its probe of the State Employees Retirement System this week and turn its attention to the state treasurer's office.

James B. Lore, LCM board chairman, will be the leadoff witness Tuesday when the grand jury session resumes.

Cloud has accused Lore of conflict of interest because he also served as a SERS investment officer. LCM reportedly collected $47,831 in consulting fees from Crofters.

Officials of Crofters, which allegedly received more than $1 million in commissions on the treasury and retirement system loans, will testify later this week, Peck said.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen persons were arrested and $21,000 worth of dangerous drugs confiscated in a raid here Saturday by the Trumbull County sheriff's department and the Indiana state police.

State and federal narcotics officials also participated in the raids.

The Authorities said there was a link between Warren and Indiana drug traffic.

Seven raids conducted by 27 deputies, five state narcotics agents and one federal agent led to the arrest of seven persons, said Sheriff Robert Barnett.

At the same time, Indiana state police arrested seven persons in four raids and confiscated about $9,600 worth of drugs, Barnett added.

Undercover agents spent more than $1,000 purchasing various drugs in Trumbull County prior to the raids, the sheriff said.

Strike Ends At Ravenna Ammo Plant

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Members of United Steelworkers Local 4581 were to return to work at the Ravenna Army ammunition plant today, ending a strike that reduced production of artillery shells.

The local, which represents some 1,400 production workers at the plant, voted Saturday to return to work. Oddie Starkey, president of the local, said union and management representatives would meet this afternoon to discuss grievances which led to the walkout.

About 95 per cent of the local went on strike after 32 women were suspended for five days for refusing to work following an incident Tuesday in which five freshly loaded 40-millimeter shells fell to the floor along a production line.

Starkey said the shells fell because they were coming through the line too rapidly and that safety switches used to stop the line had been taped closed to prevent their use.

He said the suspension will be among matters discussed today.

The taping of the switches was denied by E.F. Kelly, general manager of the Ravenna Arsenal, Inc., a subsidiary of the Firestone Tire — Rubber Co. which operates the plant for the federal government.

Use Of Wiretaps Results In 419 Arrests, Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports it has used wiretaps or electronic surveillance in 133 cases in the past 18 months—and 419 persons have been arrested as a result.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the accounting vindicated the judgment of the Senate in approving wiretapping with court permission.

"Fortunately, the present administration is making forceful and effective use of it," McClellan said in placing the wiretapping report in the Congressional Record.

McClellan said opponents of the bill that legalized wiretaps contended it would permit "omniscient snooping and the invasion of privacy of American citizens without any corresponding gain to law enforcement.

"These fears and predictions have in no way materialized," he said. McClellan said there have been no reports of abuse or misuse of wiretapping powers.

Henry E. Petersen, deputy assistant attorney general, said the Justice Department has applied to the courts for 137 wiretapping orders, obtained all but one, and used all but three.

In each case, he said, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has personally approved the application before authorizing its filing.

Eighty-two of the cases involved gambling violations, 28 involved narcotics, Petersen said.

He said 121 of the wiretaps were productive, producing 419 arrests and 325 indictments. Only five people have been convicted, he said, but that is because none of the cases involved has yet come to trial. The five convictions were produced by guilty pleas.

McClellan said the results of "just a few of these court approved wiretaps" include:

—Seizure of 124 pounds of heroin worth $8 million.

—Breakup of two numbers racket rings operating in 60 locations in the Midwest.

—Recovery of $500,000 in stolen bonds.

—Prevention of a murder and recovery of the loot in a bank robbery, both of which agents overheard being planned.

McClellan said members of Cosa Nostra or other organized crime groups were involved in each of the cases he cited.

Seven raids conducted by 27 deputies, five state narcotics agents and one federal agent led to the arrest of seven persons, said Sheriff Robert Barnett.

At the same time, Indiana state police arrested seven persons in four raids and confiscated about $9,600 worth of drugs, Barnett added.

Undercover agents spent more than $1,000 purchasing various drugs in Trumbull County prior to the raids, the sheriff said.

Orioles Top K.C. 10-8; 23rd Time

Attendance was not mandatory, but Bill Zepp showed up for Minnesota's game and some 20,000 fans turned out in Milwaukee, making it a pleasant day for the Twins and the Brewers.

But the Kansas City Royals, forced to appear before the Baltimore Orioles one more time, came away with the expected gloomy ending.

For the 23rd straight time, the Orioles beat the Royals, this time 10-8 Sunday, extending their major league record for successive victories by one team over another.

The Royals have only one consolation: they don't have to face the Orioles again until next season.

On the happier side, however, Zepp, who reportedly had asked earlier to be sent to the minor leagues nearer his family, apparently decided to stay with the Twins and pitched them past Detroit 4-3.

In Milwaukee, not only did the Brewers break a three-game losing streak with a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees, but the game attracted 20,365 fans. That gave the Brewers a season attendance of 678,087 for 53 dates, more than the team's total attendance of 677,944 all last year in Seattle.

Elsewhere in the American League, California broke a five-game spin with an 8-3 triumph over Boston. Cleveland downed the Chicago White Sox 4-2 and then lost 8-7 and Washington beat Oakland 6-2 and then lost, 1-0.

Curt Motton played the role of the villain for Baltimore this time, driving in five runs with a homer and a triple as he Orioles built a 10-5 lead. Mike Cuellar, 15-6, picked up the victory, although he didn't last six innings.

The triumph gave the Orioles a sweep of 12 games the teams played this season, adding to the 11 in a row they won in 1969 after the Royals won the first meeting of the clubs.

"We'll get them next year," was all Manager Bob Lemon of the Royals could say—hopefully—indicating the Royals would show up in 1971.

Zepp, too apparently will be around, and not only because of the way he is pitching. Minnesota Manager Bill Rigney said Sunday Zepp is staying with the team.

Zepp doesn't care to talk about his problems off the field, and he has few to talk about on the field. Raising his record to 6-1, he stopped the Tigers on six hits and one earned run for 1-3 innings before Detroit scored two tainted runs in the ninth and Ron Perranoski and Stan Williams helped him out.

Zepp also had a single which led to the decisive run in the fifth inning after Tony Oliva hit his 18th homer and Harmon Killebrew hit his 33rd with a man on for the 3-1 lead.

In Milwaukee, the Brewers celebrated their big year at the box office by ending New York's six-game winning streak with a late inning attack. Phil Roof's infield hit scored Ted Savage with the tie-breaking run in the seventh, and Savage added two more runs with a homer in the eighth.

California, after losing nine of 10 games, broke loose behind rookie Tom Bradley, who picked up his first major league victory with help in the ninth after Tony Conigliaro slugged a three-run homer for Boston. Jim Fregosi and Ken McMullen homered for the Angels, who ended a runless streak of 24 innings.

Bill Melton's two-run, two-out blast, his 19th, in the ninth inning off Dick Ellsworth, salvaged a split for the White Sox after the Indians had scored once in the top of the inning.

Rich Hand, 4-9, yielded only four hits in seven innings of the opener and Dennis Higgins finished up for Cleveland, who got a homer from Duke Sims.

Ed Stroud stroked three hits and scored three runs as Jim Hannan and Darold Knowles combined to pitch Washington past Oakland in their first game.

Don Mincher's 18th homer with two out in the ninth inning won for Oakland in the nightcap. It came off Horacio Peca, 3-1, in his third inning of relief for Joe Coleman who left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Jim Grant, 5-0, got the victory, taking over for Rollie Fingers, who also had left for a hitter in the eighth inning.

Bobby Tolan Leads Cincy To 4-3 Win Over Chicago

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Tolan, who has played six years in the Major Leagues, still has not learned to abide by the theory of "the percentages."

He has been told that lefthanded batters just are not supposed to hit well against southpaws but he said that "lefties don't worry me too much. They're a challenge."

Tolan was more than up to the challenge Sunday as he cracked three hits in five at bats and drove in the run in the 11th inning that gave the Reds a 4-3 victory over Chicago.

Tolan rapped a single off lefthanded reliever Juan Pizarro to plate Ty Cline when he had beaten out an infield bouncer and moved to second on a balk.

"I think I may hit better against lefthanders because I simply try to make contact with the ball and don't take the big rip that I have a tendency to take against righthanders."

One of his other hits came off

starter Ken Holtzman, who is lefthanded, and raised his average against lefties to .345 this year. He hit .382 last year against southpaws. Overall Tolan is batting .318 this year compared to .305 in 1969.

The Reds came from behind on three occasions and it marked the 32nd time they have overcome a deficit this year to win.

"They fight a lot harder when they get behind and never choke," said Tolan, who had an even bigger day because his wife had given birth earlier to their second son.

"This might have been one of the best played games of the year," Manager Sparky Anderson said. "It was like a checker game, but I ran out of men. In fact, the only one left outside of pitchers was catcher Pat Corrales."

Cline was one of the "extra" men who played a key role in the victory.

Besides scoring the winning run, Cline, pinchhitting, knotted the game 3-3 in the ninth by driving home Jimmy Stewart with a broken bat force out.

"Those were two big hits that had no more than 90 feet in total distance between them," Cline said about the ninth-inning ball and the single in the 11th.

"It feels great to contribute to this club because this is a terrific team."

Lee May tied the score 1-1 in the seventh with his 22nd homer and Angel Bravo, pinchhitting, singled off the glove of third baseman Ron Santo in the 10th to score Perez and deadlock the game 3-3.

"The ball seemed to jump," Bravo said. "Santo looked like he had it but it suddenly moved on him."

In the eighth inning, Santo robbed Perez of a double to halt a Cincinnati uprising when the Cubs were up 2-1.

The late-inning scoring broke up a pitching duel between Holtzman and Gary Nolan. Holtzman only allowed two hits through the first six innings and wound up yielding eight hits and two runs in eight innings.

Nolan gave up an unearned run and four hits before being lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh.

Erwin, Stanhope Win Action Filled Card At Atomic Track

Sam Erwin of Portsmouth and Bob Stanhope of Chillicothe joined the repeat winners for the year at Atomic Speedway in the wild mid-season championship Saturday night.

Erwin triggered an eight-car pileup on the fourth lap of the 50-lap modified feature of the Shrine charity race and then came back to take the lead on the 20th lap to become the second driver with a pair of victories in the division. George Harbour of Huntington, W. Va., the first to accomplish the duplicate wins, was the runner-up and Junior Smalley of Beaver was third.

Stanhope became the fourth driver to have repeat victories in the superstocks class by taking the lead on the 13th lap of the 35-lap finale. Don Stump of Circleville slipped through when George Branscom of Chillicothe and Paul Covan of Jackson brushed briefly between the first two turns to finish second and Covan was third.

Bob Morgan of Chillicothe, the modified feature winner from the previous week and the fast qualifier, was knocked out of action along with two others in the pileup that involved almost half of the cars on the track. Chuck Fletcher of Columbus, the season point leader, was able to rejoin the action only to be sidelined by another mishap on the 14th lap.

JIM Meeker of Chillicothe set the pace for the first 19 laps, dropping to fourth when Erwin took over and finishing fifth. Al Nunery of South Point captured the helmet dash, Dean Mast the consi on the white flag lap and the heat races were picked up by Tucker Nunery, Joe Frazier and Steve Unger.

Cars in the main parking lot even became involved in the superstocks feature when Ike Schaffer of Circleville left the track, crashed through a fence and crossed the parking lot road.

Schaffer had left the race for the early laps, with red flags wiping out the laps in which he had been passed by Larry Clark and Covan. On the restart of the eighth lap Covan took the lead again, to be passed on the 12th by Branscom.

Schaffer and Bob Crace were the stocks heat winners and Stanhope was the only repeat winner in the night's 10 races by picking up the consi.

Wertman Hurls One-Hit Victory

GE slipped by Kiwanis, 1-0, on three hits in a Saturday make-up tilt in the Babe Ruth League.

Gary Wertman tossed a one hitter for the winners allowing only three bases on balls and whiffing eight. Mike Chelickowski ruined Wertman's no-hitter.

Don Valentine tossed for the Kiwanis "9" fanning 12, walking two and giving up three hits.

Bobby Tolan Leads Cincy To 4-3 Win Over Chicago

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Tolan, who has played six years in the Major Leagues, still has not learned to abide by the theory of "the percentages."

He has been told that lefthanded batters just are not supposed to hit well against southpaws but he said that "lefties don't worry me too much. They're a challenge."

Tolan was more than up to the challenge Sunday as he cracked three hits in five at bats and drove in the run in the 11th inning that gave the Reds a 4-3 victory over Chicago.

Tolan rapped a single off lefthanded reliever Juan Pizarro to plate Ty Cline who had beaten out an infield bounce and moved to second on a balk.

"I think I may hit better against lefthanders because I simply try to make contact with the ball and don't take the big rip that I have a tendency to take against righthanders."

One of his other hits came off

starter Ken Holtzman, who is lefthanded, and raised his average against lefties to .345 this year. He hit .382 last year against southpaws. Overall Tolan is batting .318 this year compared to .305 in 1969.

The Reds came from behind on three occasions and it marked the 32nd time they have overcome a deficit this year to win.

"They fight a lot harder when they get behind and never choke," said Tolan, who had an even bigger day because his wife had given birth earlier to their second son.

"This might have been one of the best played games of the year," Manager Sparky Anderson said. "It was like a checker game, but I ran out of men. In fact, the only one left outside of pitchers was catcher Pat Corrales."

Cline was one of the "extra" men who played a key role in the victory.

Besides scoring the winning run, Cline, pinchhitting, knotted the game 3-3 in the ninth by driving home Jimmy Stewart with a broken bat force out.

"Those were two big hits that had no more than 90 feet in total distance between them," Cline said about the ninth-inning ball and the single in the 11th.

"It feels great to contribute to this club because this is a terrific team."

Lee May tied the score 1-1 in the seventh with his 22nd homer and Angel Bravo, pinchhitting, singled off the glove of third baseman Ron Santo in the 10th to score Perez and deadlock the game 3-3.

"The ball seemed to jump," Bravo said. "Santo looked like he had it but it suddenly moved on him."

In the eighth inning, Santo robbed Perez of a double to halt a Cincinnati uprising when the Cubs were up 2-1.

The late-inning scoring broke up a pitching duel between Holtzman and Gary Nolan. Holtzman only allowed two hits through the first six innings and wound up yielding eight hits and two runs in eight innings.

Nolan gave up an unearned run and four hits before being lifted for a pinchhitter in the seventh.

Erwin, Stanhope Win Action Filled Card At Atomic Track

Sam Erwin of Portsmouth and Bob Stanhope of Chillicothe joined the repeat winners for the year at Atomic Speedway in the wild mid-season championship Saturday night.

Erwin triggered an eight-car pileup on the fourth lap of the 50-lap modified feature of the Shrine charity race and then came back to take the lead on the 20th lap to become the second driver with a pair of victories in the division. George Harbour of Huntington, W. Va., the first to accomplish the duplicate wins, was the runner-up and Junior Smalley of Beaver was third.

Stanhope became the fourth driver to have repeat victories in the super-stocks class by taking the lead on the 13th lap of the 35-lap finale. Don Stump of Circleville slipped through when George Branscom of Chillicothe and Paul Covan of Jackson brushed briefly between the first two turns to finish second and Covan was third.

Bob Morgan of Chillicothe, the modified feature winner from the previous week and the fast qualifier, was knocked out of action along with two others in the pileup that involved almost half of the cars on the track. Chuck Fletcher of Columbus, the season point leader, was able to rejoin the action only to be sidelined by another mishap on the 14th lap.

JIM Meeker of Chillicothe set the pace for the first 19 laps, dropping to fourth when Erwin took over and finishing fifth. Al Nunery of South Point captured the helmet dash, Dean Mast the consi on the white flag lap and the heat races were picked up by Tucker Nunery, Joe Frazier and Steve Unger.

Cars in the main parking lot even became involved in the super-stocks feature when like Schaffer of Circleville left the track, crashed through a fence and crossed the parking lot road.

Schaffer had left the race for the early laps, with red flags wiping out the laps in which he had been passed by Larry Clark and Covan. On the restart of the eighth lap Covan took the lead again, to be passed on the 12th by Branscom.

Schaffer and Bob Crace were the stocks heat winners and Stanhope was the only repeat winner in the night's 10 races by picking up the consi.

Wertman Hurls One-Hit Victory
GE slipped by Kiwanis, 1-0, on three hits in a Saturday make-up tilt in the Babe Ruth League.
Gary Wertman tossed a one hitter for the winners allowing only three bases on balls and whiffing eight. Mike Chelkowsky ruined Wertman's no-hitter.
Don Valentine tossed for the Kiwanis "9" fanning 12, walking two and giving up three hits.

Circleville, Teays Valley LL All-Stars Split Pair

Circleville's Little League All-Stars dropped an 8-3 decision to the Teays Valley All-Stars in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday but bounced back to take the nightcap, 1-0.

Whitt was on the mound for the Teays stars in the first tilt limiting Circleville to two hits while walking seven and fanning nine.

Cradlebaugh and Bumgarner shared the mound chores for the local nine. They walked two and struckout three but were touched for eight safeties in the contest.

The TV swingers managed two runs in the first, one in the fourth and rapped the local offerings for five big markers in the fifth to take the fray.

CIRCLEVILLE picked up one run in the fourth and added two more in the sixth to account for all the scoring.

Gregg had three hits for the boys from the Valley. Wharton and Messick added two safeties apiece and Bumgarner and Barr each chipped in with a safe rap for the winners.

Biff Bumgarner and Brent Mancini each had a hit to account for the Circleville safeties.

The second game was a different story with Mancini going to the mound for Circleville and hurling a shutout to gain the win.

He walked one, fanned seven and scattered five hits to keep the TV stars under control.

Rathburn was on the hill for Teays and also turned in a fine effort. He gave up four hits, walked two and whiffed five.

THE only score of the contest came in the second stanza when Cradlebaugh scored to give Mancini all the edge he needed. Large, Mancini, Cradlebaugh and Wagner slashed singles for the winning side.

Bumgarner had two singles, Messick a double, and Wharton and Rayburn rapped one baggers for the Valley squad.

Tony Crist Paces Pick-DuPont Win

Tony Crist belted two triples and a double to lead Pickaway - DuPont to a 6-3 win over Washington Township in Tri-County Little League Minor action.

David Palmer and Jeff Collins shared the mound chores for the winners. They allowed three hits, issued eight walks and fanned 11 in their effort.

Mark Vanover was the Washington hurler giving up six hits, walking two and striking out seven DuPonters.

Dennis Redman, Collins and Jimmy Hinkley added singles to the DuPont attack while Vanover had two one baggers and Dave Calton a double for Washington.

Second National Whips IOOF, 10-7

Second National took IOOF, 10-7, in a make up tilt in the Little League Minor race.

Todd Mancini, Dan Marshall and Brian Conner tossed the win for the Second Bank allowing four hits, 16 walks and nine strikeouts.

Jeff Carter was the losing IOOF hurler allowing the winners ten hits and six bases on balls and nine strikeouts. He also hit a double for the losers.

Mancini and Keith Harding hit two-basers for the winners.

Crampton Wins Westchester

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — "We're not machines out there, we're human beings," Bruce Crampton said after pocketing the $50,000 first prize in the Westchester Golf Classic.

"We have nerves. We have stomach aches. We have a basic sense of insecurity. And we have cars."

The handsome Australian had his ears tuned to the gallery behind him as he played down the stretch of the $250,000 Classic Sunday with the awesome Jack Nicklaus and young Larry Hinson breathing down his neck.

"It's uncomfortable to have any of these fellows behind you because they're all so good," Crampton said. "But with Nicklaus it is really unnerving. He is the best golfer in the world. There is no telling what he will do."

Crampton rolled in dramatic birdie shots from off the green on the 16th and 17th holes—chipping in from 15 feet on one and sinking a 20-foot putt on the other—and then played the final hole in a safe par five for a 67 and a winning score of 273.

listened for the reaction of the Nicklaus and Hinson gallery on the 16th," the curly-haired Australian tour regular said. "I didn't hear any cheers. I heard an ah-h-h. I knew then that there hadn't been a birdie and one or both of them had got a bogey."

Nicklaus bogeyed the 206-yard par 3 hole after bunkering his tee shot and momentarily fell three shots back of the leader with two holes to play.

Then it was Nicklaus' turn to hear a gallery roar as Crampton, playing with Dave Hill, knocked in his second birdie in a row.

"I knew then I had to finish 33," Jack said. Both he and Hinson, a 25-year-old member of golf's new mod squad, hit two mighty shots to the 538-yard closing hole and sank eagle putts of 20 and 10 feet, respectively, to tie for second place at 274.

They missed by just one stroke. Each collected $23,125.

MEET YOUR NEW NEIGHBOR.

The Moriarty people.

And though we're no stranger to the Ohio scene, we are pleased to tell you we've opened a new sales and construction center at Circleville, two miles southeast of town on State Route 56.

If you're a farmer or a businessman thinking about a new building, this should be good news. Because now our Circleville center can provide you with helpful, on-the-spot planning assistance, and follow it up with prompt, economical construction of your building.

Every Moriarty building is a professionally engineered, quality built structure erected entirely by our own skilled construction crews. They're available in clear span widths up to 60 ft., maximum widths up to 100 ft., and any length you may require. Many advanced design features are a basic part of the building and contribute to long useful service life, with minimum maintenance.

In farm buildings, we offer more than 70 different models—for machinery storage, dairy housing, loafing barns, hog farrowing and finishing, crop and grain storage, and other purposes.

Our commercial structures are widely used for warehousing and storage, retail sales, service, manufacturing, processing, and as general utility buildings. Many exterior colors and attractive trim combinations are available to create the flattering appearance you want your building to have.

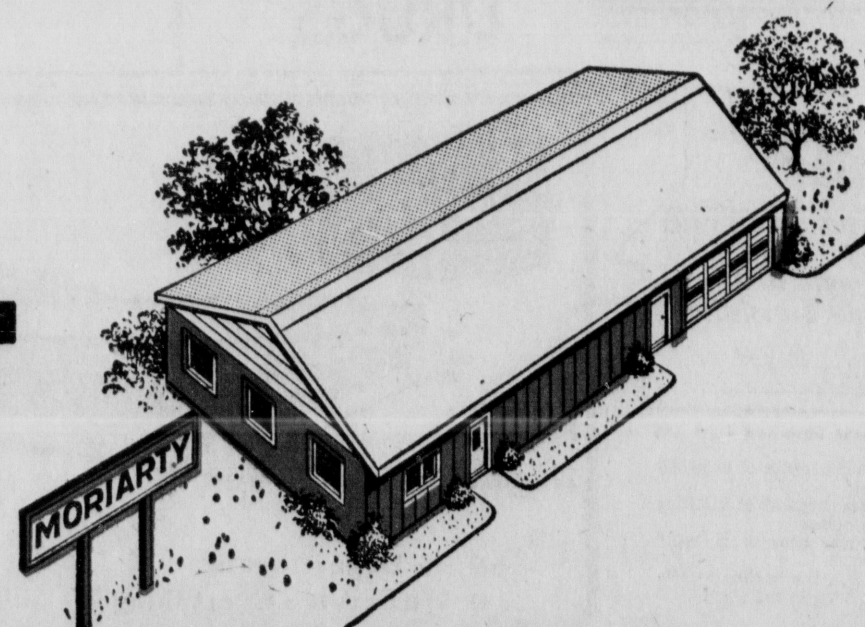

Call us today at 474-8732 (area 614), and we'll arrange for a Moriarty planning specialist to come out and discuss your building needs. Or if you prefer, stop in at our new offices and get acquainted with manager, Dean Handy. Either way, you'll be pleased with our sincere desire to help you.
